1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow : 20

Dolphins are regarded as the friendliest creatures in the sea and stories of them helping drowning sailors have been common since Roman times. The more we learn about dolphins, the more we realize that their society is more complex than people previously imagined. They look after other dolphins when they are ill, care for pregnant mothers and protect the weakest in the community, as we do. Some scientists have suggested that dolphins have a language but it is much more probable that they communicate with each other without needing words. Could any of these mammals be more intelligent than man? Certainly the most common argument in favor of man's superiority over them is that we can kill them more easily than they can kill us, but this is a weak argument. On the contrary, the more we discover about these remarkable creatures, the less we appear superior when we destroy them.

Questions :

- (i) How have dolphins been regarded since old times ? 2
- (ii) What do stories about dolphins tell us ? 2
- (iii) Is the society of dolphins simple to understand ? 2
- (iv) List some of the things dolphins do which makes them complex creatures. 2

- (v) Do dolphins have a language ? 2
- (vi) How do dolphins communicate with one another ? 2
- (vii) What is the most common argument in favour of man's superiority over the dolphins ? Is it a satisfactory argument ? 2
- (viii) Who according to you is superior—man or dolphins ? Why ? 2
- (ix) Make sentences from any two of the following :
friendliest, complex, care, superiority. 2
- (x) Choose words from the passage the are opposite in meaning to the following : 2
- (1) Strongest
- (2) Inferiority.

2. Complete the passage given below choosing the most appropriate word (A, B and C) for 1-10 from those given below. The first one has been done for you.

Although (0) some groups of people have always lived outdoors in tents, camping as we know it today only began to be (1) about 50 years ago. The increase in the use of cars and improvements in camping (2) have allowed more people to travel longer (3) into the countryside and to stay there in greater comfort. Many campers like to be (4) themselves in quiet areas, so they (5) their tent and food and walk or cycle into the forests or the mountains. Others, preferring to be near people, drive to a public or privately—owned camp site (6) has up-to-date facilities, (7) hot showers and swimming pools.

Whether campers are (8) in the mountains or on a busy site, they should remember to (9) the area clean

Answer All questions.

1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow :

When you have to write something the best way to begin is simply by sitting down at your desk with pen and paper and writing non-stop for at least ten minutes. Write whatever comes to your mind without bothering about language, spelling, grammar or neatness. Let your ideas flow. The first draft is only meant to generate ideas and the mistakes you make in writing can be corrected later. When the ten minutes are over, read what you have written, finding fault with the ideas, the argument, the examples you have chosen to illustrate your ideas with, in fact with everything you have written. Put yourself in the position of the reader and criticize what you have written, asking yourself if it is clear, convincing and interesting.

Now make a fresh draft, improving upon your ideas and presentation as well as setting right as many mistakes of language as you can. At this stage it might be a good idea to show your writing to a friend or discuss it with someone you can trust who has a positive and helpful attitude and who can suggest better arguments and examples and some new/different ideas. She/He can also suggest better arguments and examples and some new/different ideas. She/He can also discuss the gaps in your thinking, pointing out things which you may think you have explained well but which in fact have problems. Once you have incorporated/added the points suggested by your friend/partner, you are ready for the final draft.

Now is also the time to check thoroughly for mistakes in spelling, grammar, logic and for neatness. Revise and edit your piece carefully before submitting your work for evaluation and there is no reason why you should not do well.

(i) Read the above passage carefully and answer the questions given below : 5

- (a) What is the first draft useful for ?
- (b) What is the first step towards writing ?
- (c) What is the purpose of second draft ?
- (d) How does showing your writing to a friend help ?
